

Lyceum 2008

(9th Annual)

Sound Thinking: The Life & Health of Puget Sound

April 1st speaker,
John Lombard,
author of
Saving Puget Sound: A Conservation Strategy for the 21st Century.

WHIDBEY WATERSHED STEWARDS

APRIL 1	Puget Sound and Our Place in It John Lombard, Analyst, Steward & Associates; Oceanography and Program on Environment, UW
APRIL 8	Pollution in the Sound: Truths &amp; Consequences Nat Scholz, Environmental Conservation Division, NOAA
APRIL 15	Energy from the Sound: Harnessing Tidal Power Mitsuhiro Kawase, School of Oceanography, UW
APRIL 22	Protecting the Sound's Birds &amp; Mammals Kevin Ryan, Washington Maritime National Wildlife Refuge Complex; Dave Nyswander, Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife
APRIL 29	Saving the Sound, One Step at a Time Sarah Schmidt, Co-author: Getting to the Water's Edge
MAY 6	The Partnership in Our Future David Dicks, Executive Director of Puget Sound Partnership

6 Tuesday evenings, April 1–May 6, 2008
Front Room, Bayview Cash Store, Whidbey Island
7:30–9:00 p.m.
$6 per lecture, $30 for series
Information: (360) 341-1884

Lyceum 2008 is a series of public lectures that focus on Puget Sound: how it works, what its current state is, and what the future holds in store. This series is co-sponsored by the Whidbey Institute at Chinook, WSU Island County Extension, Whidbey Audubon Society, Island County Marine Resources Committee, and Whidbey Watershed Stewards.